

2026-27 Eastern Development League (EDL) Your Next Step Starts Here

Is your child ready to take the next step in their basketball journey?

For many players, domestic basketball is no longer enough of a challenge, but they may not yet be ready for, or able to commit to, the full representative basketball pathway. That's where the Eastern Development League (EDL) comes in.

The EDL provides a high-quality, structured development pathway for players looking to bridge the gap between domestic basketball and VJBL representative competition.

Designed to mirror the representative basketball experience, the EDL offers:

-  Competitive Friday night games
-  Squad-based training led by Camberwell Dragons Coaches
-  Representative-style team environments and squad sizes
-  Increased intensity and skill development opportunities

Best of all, players can enjoy these development opportunities while continuing to play and compete close to home.

The EDL is the perfect environment for players to build their confidence, improve their skills and prepare for the next stage of their basketball journey.

Tryout Information

Camberwell Dragons EDL Team Tryouts will be held in October/November 2026.

All players will be selected in team for the 2027 season.

Further details regarding age groups, registration and tryout dates will be announced later this year through the Camberwell Basketball website and social media channels.

To be eligible to play EDL you must also be registered to play in a domestic team for both Summer and Winter Seasons.

Challenge yourself. Develop your game. Take the next step with the Camberwell Dragons EDL program.

We look forward to seeing you at tryouts!
